

Testimonials from students and parents...

"I am an elementary school teacher and I've been taking voice and piano lessons with Sarah for over three years. I didn't consider myself a singer before starting, but singing has become a joyful part of my life and working with Sarah has consistently been the highlight of my week. She is bright and encouraging. She demonstrates dedication to her learners by continuing to develop her repertoire of teaching tools. She has empowered me as a singer and performer. I highly recommend her to anyone interested in music lessons." - Tessa

"Sarah is a gifted teacher who is committed to finding creative ways to motivate her students. My lessons (voice and piano) are fun and I see that I have made progress in basic skills as well as my overall appreciation of music. Thank you so much, Sarah." - Valerie

"We're so pleased and impressed with Sarah's enthusiastic and innovative approach to teaching music. In addition to traditional methods of instruction, she employs creative, "outside the box" techniques to motivate our son's interest in his piano lessons and to foster a genuine love of music in him, which we feel is equally as important as learning the proper techniques. We're very fortunate that our son has the opportunity to learn from Sarah and we appreciate all of the many ways she goes above and beyond to enrich his musical education!" - Heather and John

"Sarah is a wonderful vocal teacher. She is very creative and always has new ideas which can light up your eyes. She is really passionate about her career and contributes positive energy that can make your heart excited. However, considering the level that she cares about her students, that passion may not be comparable. I feel so lucky and grateful to be one of her students. p.s. Her voice is amazing!" - Regina

"My vocal capabilities have improved very much over the last year I have been Sarah's student. She is a conscientious teacher who can help you finely tune your instrument. I highly recommend her to anyone who wants to see results as long as you put in the effort. Sarah certainly does!" - Laura
